A new shop for next-generation design lovers

Today, Design Miami has launched DM/BX, a new, shoppable design destination featuring works by emerging and established designers and makers from around the globe. Spotighting the personalities, ideas, and stories behind the objects, DM/BX showcases future-facing design culture aimed at design collectors of tomorrow.

Created to inspire design lovers the world over—both connoisseurs and those new to design—DM/BX offers a fresh, fun look at the best in the ever-evolving design scene. The new shop includes one-of-a-kind, limited edition, and small batch design objects across furniture, jewelry, lighting, ceramics, and more. As an extension of the existing Design Miami/ Shop, which specializes in historic and contemporary collectible design from world class galleries and studios, DM/BX presents unprecedented access to works by designers on the rise, available 365 days a year.

DM/BX is a continuation of Design Miami's vision to connect the world through extraordinary design. Backed by the curatorial perspective, expertise, and innovation that have come to define Design Miami/ as the global forum for design since 2005, DM/BX was inspired by the collectors, designers, and galleries that gather every year at Design Miami's real world collectible exhibitions. It is driven by Design Miami's ongoing mission to nurture the international design community by sharing new discoveries at every turn—inviting new talents to our incredible design network and supporting the exciting creatives who are defining cutting-edge visual language. ☒
